CURCUMIN MATRIX

Inflammation Balance • Cellular Recovery • Antioxidant Defense

CELLCODE's CURCUMIN MATRIX features a clinically advanced blend of three powerful curcuminoids — curcumin, bisdemethoxycurcumin (BMC), and demethoxycurcumin (DMC) — the bioactive compounds derived from turmeric (Curcuma longa). Used for centuries as both a healing botanical and culinary spice, turmeric continues to stand out in modern research for its profound effects on inflammatory balance, cellular protection, and overall health.*

Curcuminoids have been extensively studied for their ability to support a healthy inflammatory response, modulate oxidative stress, and promote tissue repair at the cellular level.* These compounds influence key signaling pathways that help maintain normal metabolic, immune, and neurological function, contributing to long-term wellness and resilience.*

CELLCODE's CURCUMIN MATRIX enhances the potency of traditional turmeric by combining curcuminoids with turmeric essential oils and phosphatidylcholine complex technology to dramatically improve absorption and bioavailability.* This ensures that the active compounds reach target tissues efficiently, providing consistent, lasting support for joint comfort, muscle recovery, brain health, and *cellular defense.

By promoting balanced inflammation and protecting against oxidative stress, CURCUMIN MATRIX supports cardiovascular health, metabolic balance, and optimal recovery—making it a cornerstone for anyone seeking comprehensive anti-inflammatory and antioxidant support.*
