VITAGLUTIDE

Blood Sugar Balance • Digestive Health • Metabolic Support

CELLCODE's VITAGLUTIDE is a targeted metabolic support formula designed to help regulate blood sugar, improve digestion, and promote overall wellness.* Powered by clinically studied botanicals like berberine, ginger, and Dichrostachys glomerata, this synergistic blend supports healthy glucose metabolism, gut function, and cardiovascular balance.*

Berberine root extract plays a central role in supporting insulin sensitivity and maintaining optimal blood sugar and lipid levels.* It also helps reduce systemic inflammation while promoting a balanced gut microbiome for metabolic and digestive efficiency.*

Ginger rhizome extract provides broad-spectrum support for digestion, inflammation, and immune health. Its active compounds — gingerols and shogaols — calm the gastrointestinal tract, support nutrient absorption, and protect cells from oxidative stress.*

Dichrostachys glomerata, a nutrient-dense botanical rich in polyphenols and antioxidants, complements berberine by supporting healthy glucose metabolism, reducing fat absorption, and improving digestive comfort.* Together, these compounds offer a comprehensive approach to maintaining balance, from metabolic stability to digestive vitality.*

Whether your goal is to support stable blood sugar, improve digestion, or strengthen cardiovascular wellness, VITAGLUTIDE delivers targeted, evidence-based support for metabolic health at every level.*
