VITAMMUNE

Immune Defense • Antioxidant Support • Seasonal Resilience

CELLCODE's VITAMMUNE delivers comprehensive immune system support with a synergistic blend of key nutrients, antioxidants, and botanicals designed to strengthen the body's defenses and promote overall wellness.* This advanced formula combines vitamins C and D3, zinc, quercetin, and N-acetyl cysteine (NAC) — nutrients clinically shown to support immune balance, respiratory health, and antioxidant protection.*

Vitamin C provides powerful antioxidant activity, enhances immune defense, and supports collagen synthesis for tissue repair.* Vitamin D3 and zinc play critical roles in regulating immune cell function and maintaining a balanced inflammatory response.* Quercetin, a potent flavonoid, supports respiratory health and provides antioxidant protection against oxidative stress, while NAC helps replenish glutathione — the body's master antioxidant — to strengthen detoxification and cellular resilience.*

Together, these evidence-based nutrients provide a strong foundation for immune function and recovery, helping the body respond efficiently to environmental challenges while maintaining long-term vitality.*

VITAMMUNE is ideal for year-round use to fortify immune strength, especially during seasonal changes, high-stress periods, or travel. It supports the body's natural defenses so you can stay strong, clear, and energized every day.*
